Fostering Scrum (and other agreed rules)

Pointing out when the Team is breaking agreements they have made, guiding them to discuss how to correct actions or change agreements.

Helping with

The SM is not a referee like in soccer, with the authority to enforce the rules of the game. But SM can be like a conscience, helping the Development Team and the Product Owner in noticing when they deviate from their agreements, and help them either follow them or change them (if they are no longer good rules).

Removing impediments

Working to remove impediments, keeping the impediments visible, pointing out new impediments, prioritising which impediments to remove first, etc.
